THE FIRST CLASS SUPPER

CLASS OF '96 INAUGURATES A PLEASANT CUSTOM.

Dined at the Merrimack House Last Night —Speeches, Singing and Whist Enjoyed.

It remained for the class of '96 of St. Patrick's school, to introduce in connection with the social side of the class affairs, a feature that is a pleasing innovation and will surely be carried out from year to year by succeeding classes.

It was a class supper, and inasmuch as '96 excels in many respects any previous class, it was only proper that this happy custom, should be inaugurated by them.

The supper was held in the private dining room at the Merrimack house, and from 7.30 to 8 o'clock a reception was held.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the party sat down to the long table. Covers were laid for eleven persons, and those present were Rev. Bro. George, Frederick A. Keefe, John Adams, John Graham, William F. Gallagher, Richard Murphy, John Meagher, Frederick Cummings, Francis Kiernan, William D. Regan and John Quinn. For two hours Manager Boody's best supper was discussed, and then the following toasts were responded to; "St. Patrick's school," "Our Graduates," "Xaverian Brothers," "City of Lowell," "Our Next Democratic President." Frederick A. Keefe was toastmaster and the speakers were William D. Regan, Richard Murphy, William Gallagher, Rev. Bro. George, who spoke to the toast, "Class of '96," and Frederick Keefe.

Afterwards the party adjourned to the parlors and the following program was carried out: recitations, John Adams, John Quinn, Fred Cummings, William D. Regan and Frederick Keefe, violin solo William Gallagher, piano solo, Francis Kiernan. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing and whist playing.

Miss Georgie Abbott who served as waitress at the table was presented a beautiful bouquet by the class.

THE BIG 12 BALL

Another Successful Event by This Popular Club.

THIS TIME IT WAS IN ASSOCIATE HALL.

Hon. Peter J. Brady the Prince of Good Fellows.

It was the fifth annual concert and ball of the Big 12 association that caused the large and gay assembly in Associate hall last evening, and it was a grand success in every way.

This has been a season of social successes and the Big 12 was not behind the foremost in entertaining. It is true that early in the evening the hall was a trifle crowded, but by midnight the attendance had thinned out, making dancing very comfortable.

The decorations were very simple, yet neat and were confined to the stage which was adorned with potted plants, palms, evergreen and the national colors.

Here Joe Hibbard's orchestra discoursed its most fascinating strains giving a pleasing concert from 8.30 to 9. During the concert the members and their friends in gay attire assembled and at the end or just before the march there was not a vacant seat in the gallery while portions of the floor space were crowded. Each had a souvenir containing a group picture of the original "Big 12" and a happy feature about the distribution of the souvenirs was the fact that there was no crowding and no subsequent dissatisfaction as coupons were on each ticket. In the center of the floor in artistic waxwork was wrought "Big 12" and the motto of the society.

The grand march was formed shortly after 9 o'clock and though brief was decidedly pretty, showing off to good effect the numerous pretty gowns worn by the ladies. The march was led by Floor Director Thomas A. Golden and lady and was composed of about 75 couples. At the conclusion of the march the enjoyment of an order of 24 engagements was begun and it is needless to state that the inviting numbers were all filled by a large concourse of graceful dancers. The opening waltz was participated in by quite a crowd but as the hours sped on the crowd thinned out making the dance more pleasurable. After the 12th number an intermission of 45 minutes was taken during which supper was served in the hall above, at the same time the club's apartments being thrown open to the out of town gentlemen guests.

At one o'clock the dancing was resumed. On the order were captivating numbers complimentary to the mayor, the Hogans, Les Miserables, Our Lawrence friends, Suffolk Athletic club and the Press, all of which were danced with greatest enjoyment.

The bells had rolled the early hours of the morn ere the last waltz had been glided and the tired yet happy dancers prepared to depart from the most enjoyable of the Big 12 annuals.

The out of town guests were many and among those noticed were Messrs. Thos. Keane, Wilham Lechir, L. J. Killian, George Warfield of Boston; Michael and Thomas Ryan, J. T. O'Sullivan, Richard Carter of Lawrence.

Daniel Desmond, Owen McMahon, Lawrence; W. P. Sweeney, Claremont, N. H.; T. J. Burke, Nashua; M. J. Tierney, Boston; Thomas Foley, George Kane, ex-Alderman Barry and Abel Gorman, Manchester; James Cronan, Holyoke; John King and J. Meehan, Springfield.

The officers were: Grand conductor, Peter J. Brady; assistant, Frank Barnard; floor director, Thomas A. Golden; assistant, R. C. Gallagher; aids, chief aid, Joseph F. Donohoe; Ferdinand W. Singai Thomas F. Burns, F. N. Harvey, P. L. McBride, John Murray, Avery Marshal, W. B. Viney, Geo. S. Dunn, L. F. Hunington, M. J. Gannon, A. G. Stiles, John Mack, E. F. Felting, R. A. POLICE COURT.

J. Hadley.

Of nine drunks seven were released.

Henry J. Clark was sent to the workhouse for two months.

An important decision was rendered by Judge Hadley in the case of Constable Bernard J. Gately charged with assault and battery upon Mrs. Hiram Cooper, the alleged assault having occurred while the defendant was making an attachment. The court regretfully fined the defendant $12, believing that while he overstepped the bounds of his duty, the defendant was acting in good faith and simply had a mistaken idea as to what he could do legally in making the attachment. Mr. Gately appealed and furnished surety. The alleged assault was technical, Mr. Gately having merely caught the woman by the arm.

THE STORM IN LOWELL

THE STREETS FLOODED AND WIND HIGH.

Signs Blown Down and Other Damage Likely to be Done.

The rain storm which started in last night and fell lightly at first, increased during this morning and at noon was coming down in torrents. The wind blew and made it difficult to carry an umbrella. The streets were deserted. Many signs hanging outside of stores were blown into the streets and clerks were kept on the chase continually.

The sidewalks and crossings are flooded. On the North common there is a great flood of water.

Supt. Whitcomb thought the weather was too stormy for children to venture out, and so he graciously caused the "no school" alarm to be sounded for which the pupils feel thankful.

If the storm continues this evening there will probably be no session of the evening schools.

RETURNED FROM LOWELL.

Met a Highwayman at Union Station and Lost His Watch.

George W. Elliott of No. 2 Devon street Roxbury, proprietor of the Highland foundry, entered police headquarters in Boston at midnight and reported that he had been robbed near the Union station an hour before.

Mr. Elliott said that he has just returned from Lowell and while awaiting a car near the station he was approached by a shabbily dressed man who entered into conversation with him.

Suddenly the fellow grabbed him by the throat and snatched his watch chain in an endeavor to get his watch.

The chain parted near the swivel and the fellow made off carrying the chain with him.

The chain was of gold bars connected by small links and had attached a gold Masonic charm and a child's gold ring.

Mr. Elliott described the highwayman as about 25 years of age, of medium complexion, slim build, 160 pounds in weight and with dark mustache. He had on a suit of black clothes and no overcoat.

Summed up in a few words, this clever company of artists furnishes an evening's entertainment which cannot be surpassed by any company on the road. And in addition to the comedy "McDoodle and Poodle," being filled with laughable situations, it is also replete with catchy music and clever and novel specialties, introduced by the various members of this splendid company.

G.A.R. CONVENTION

Local Posts Arranging for the Event.

IT WILL BRING THOUSANDS TO LOWELL.

The City Council Has Not Taken Action.

Extensive arrangements for the entertainment of the G. A. R. department of Mass. by the local posts during the encampment next week have been made.

The general orders of the department provide for the convention in Associate hall, next Wednesday at 10 a. m., and Mayor Courtney will make a brief address of welcome. After that the business will probably be behind closed doors, although Past Department Commander Adams has a resolution for the admission of the press. Local delegates say there is nothing in the business to prevent and it may be so arranged. Department Commander J. W. Thayer will preside. National Commander in Chief I. N. Walker and staff will be present.

The election of officers will take place Thursday morning, and in the afternoon in Huntington hall there will be a great banquet at which Governor Greenhalge, Mayor Courtney, Commander-in-chief Walker and others will speak. The sessins will occupy two days, Wednesday and Thursday, but many delegates will arrive Tuesday. Commander Fisk of Post 185 who with Commander Smiley of Post 120 is on the committee under that head, said the accommodations at the American, Merrimack, Richardson and Washington hotels were already about taken.

The state department of the Women's Relief Corps, Mrs. Eva T. Cook of Gloucester, president, will also hold its convention in Odd Fellows' hall, Middlesex street and the ladies of the G. A. R. will hold theirs at Odd Fellows' hall, Merrimack street.

The difference between the orders is this: The Relief Corps admits all eligible loyal ladies. The G. A. R. ladies confine their membership to the families of Grand Army comrades.

There are about 700 delegates to the G. A. R. convention, about 400 to the Relief Corps and perhaps 200 or 300 in the G. A. R. ladies. Then many of the 200 G. A. R. posts of the state will send large outside delegations as will many of the women's branches. Altogether there will probably be an aggregate of about 3000 people as near as can be estimated.

The Relief Corps will have a reception and supper in Huntington hall Thursday evening and the G.A.R. ladies will have one at Odd Fellows' hall.

At the G.A.R. convention the projects for monuments to Generals Butler and Hooker will be agitated.

Post 42 held a well attended meeting last evening. On Wednesday evening next a grand reception will be held by the post in Memorial hall.

By direction of Department Commander Thayer upon Post 42 falls the honor of furnishing the guard for the sessions of the conventions, and last night the following detail was made therefor: Officer of the day, Adjutant Geo. E. Worthen; officer of the guard, Charles Goodbue; guards, James Anderson, James Boyle, Wm. Corcoran, N. O. Blake, Daniel Murphy, John Flynn, John Conroy, C. S. Goodwin, Jas. Noonan, James Paton, Wm. Kennedy, Thomas Kernan, James Quigley, Seth Sherwood, Jere Welch.

Invitations have been also sent to the two other local posts, Farragut camp, Sons of Veterans, which has been requested to send a detail to assist in the reception, Dahlgren Naval Post Waubatchie command, U. V. U., and any other veterans' organizations; also to all the city clergy and all the ex-mayors and the public generally is invited to attend. Post 42 band will furnish music and there will probably be some speeches.

Ladd & Whitney Post 185 also made arrangements for the event last evening. They will keep open house during the convention at their quarters in Wyman's Exchange. The post will also decorate elaborately the platform in Associate hall.

As yet the city has not acted on the coming event and the city government has neglected to notice officially the veterans.

Walter Burnham in Town.

Mr. Walter W. Burnham, the well known base ball manager who was frozen out of this city by the New England association, was in town this morning and paid THE SUN a visit. Mr. Burnham is travelling for the H. A. and W. C. Keith Co., sporting goods house of Providence and Brockton, and in the base ball season manages the Brockton team. Walter couldn't resist the temptation to give a few digs to those who beat him out last year and they were quite excusable under the circumstances. He states that the prospect for base ball in some of the New England cities, particularly Brockton, is particularly bright.

Among the players he has already signed is Coyle, the old Lowell pitcher. He inquired for McCarthy, Slines and McGunne and may possibly talk business with them later.

THE VICTORY IS WON

LES MISERABLES SURE OF THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

In the Bowling Tournament Now in Progress.

Les Miserables are champions. Last night the 999th, their nearest competitors, were beaten by the Casinos and now the proud Lowell team cannot lose the coveted place.

Today the boys are receiving congratulations, and so pleased is Capt. Swift that he is distributing dollar bills.

Les Miserables victory is a popular one and gives universal satisfaction. Nearly every club in the league will welcome the Miserables as champions.

Capt. Swift and his team of high rollers are deserving of the greatest praise for their game fight during the season. Their pathway was not strewn with roses, and they were compelled to overcome many obstacles, even being threatened with expulsion from the league.

The club has two more games to play, one with 999th on the latter's alleys next Wednesday, and the other at home with the B. A. A. team. At the latter game, the boys should receive a welcome, such as champions, deserve.

These were Sergeant Hunton of Co. G of this city; Sergeant Gray, Co. A of Wakefield, and Private Hirsch, Co. C, Lowell.

Mr. Hirsch was the first to slip and on the trial by the other two judgment for excellence was given Sergeant Hunton. The manual of arms, the steps and the facings were the points of drill.

Solon W. Stevens, Esq., awarded the prizes. Sergeant Hunton was given a beautiful silver cup; a smaller cup was given to Sergeant Gray of Wakefield and Private Hirsch received a pair of opera glasses.

BAD FOR MRS. QUINLAN

EVIDENCE POINTS TO HER PROBABLE GUILT.

Experts Say Her Clothing Was Spattered With Blood—Her Boy's Testimony.

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—Much mystery still surrounds the Sophia Grant murder case, and with new evidence claimed to have been secured yesterday, the police are more confident than ever before that Mrs. Ida Quinlan, the murdered woman's sister, did the deed in the heat of a quarrel. It is now freely stated that the charge against Mrs. Quinlan will be changed to manslaughter when the hearing is held.

They will endeavor to show that the dead woman had been killed before Ida left the house for her second trip that evening, and they will lay stress on the fact of coming away over to the city proper, a matter of nearly two miles, at 10 o'clock at night, for the purpose of purchasing a pair of slippers and a pair of stockings, either of which articles she might have as cheaply purchased within a stone's throw of her home.

The principal act of yesterday was that of visiting Mrs. Quinlan at the jail and taking from her her mackintosh, waist and shoes. These articles were then submitted to Prof. Wood for examination. They are said to have stains on them which resemble blood spots.

The police had a long session yesterday with Maggie Brennnan, a waitress in Cauley's restaurant at Charlestown Neck, from whom they obtained a lot of information concerning the family history of the McLeods. Nothing that, she disclosed, however, had a direct bearing on the murder.

Mrs. Quinlan's 9-year-old boy keeps firmly to the story that he was with his mother from 9 o'clock in the evening and left the house with her, but a neighbor asserts that the boy spent some time standing at the door before Mrs. Quinlan left the house, and the police think it was during this period the murder was committed.

The boy says he was at the door but went up stairs and came away with his mother.

Trains by this division leave Lowell from Middlesex street station.

Leave Boston from the new Union Station, Causeway street.

§From Middlesex St. station only.

The board of trade has elected Mr. Huse as secretary and will be liable for his salary.

The textile workers will have to bestir themselves if they want shorter working hours this year.

The popular bond issue certainly proved popular—the most popular ever offered, but it does not rectify the treasury troubles.

The committee on commons can now get in a little reform on the further end of the boulevard. We do not mean financial reform.

The county commissioners have issued their report. They have little to show, except a great bill of expenses as usual. The "Ring" couldn't exist otherwise.

The board of aldermen does not seem to be infatuated with the police board. The latter, however, is dependent upon the aldermen only in the matter of salary.

Major Allen has been renominated for the office of milk inspector. There will be no trouble with his confirmation unless it occurs to some of our city fathers that such an official is unnecessary.

The New York Evening Post is mailing over the country a printed speech by A. J. Balfour. It is very conciliatory in tone and is so palpably in England's favor that we have no doubt the expense of circulation is paid by British gold.

From the number of dogs killed by the electrics in Billerica it has occurred to farmers along the line that the company is liable for damages unless it puts upon its cars some such notice as this: "All dog are requested to keep away from the cars."

The British government has miserably backed down in its attitude towards Armenia. Salisbury wants an alliance with the Sultan. He dreads that triple alliance and is willing to condone all the massacres perpetrated in Armenia. That is England's traditional policy.

Lady Wilde, known in literature as Speranza, was one of the noblest of women. She wrote some exquisite songs advocating Irish freedom for the Young Ireland party and easily took her place beside Thomas Davis, Denis Florence, McCarthy and T. D. Sullivan, all of whom were true poets.

The disgraceful action of the A. P. A. faction in Garfield Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, is not strange. There is no accounting for the acts of these imbeciles. Their bigotry is not indigenous to the American soil. It was born in the British dominions, whence we get all the present defenders of the flag, the nation and its institutions.

WHAT NOW OF FINANCIAL REFORM?

By the way, what has become of all the financial reforms that were to be urged upon the legislature by the financial commission or by the city council? It is now about time to introduce any bill that is to be introduced this year. Where is the bill for the new charter increasing the mayor's powers? Ah! to increase the mayor's powers! That changes the situation. The republicans evidently do not want to increase the powers of a democratic mayor.

Had the liberal republicans control of the so-called republican party, they might push the reforms but the darklantern element is now on deck and will endeavor to prevent any extension of the mayor's power while a democrat holds the office.

Their regard for the mayor is known. They have succeeded in putting through the legislature several acts, effectually curtailing his powers, and if they could permanently take away his veto power and his appointive power they would lose no time in so doing. When the republicans elect a mayor they will probably seek an extension of power for that official. It would be useless for democrats to go to the legislature for reform. The republicans would then rush through a sort of supplement to the gerrymander bill that would still further disfranchise the democrats of this city

THE MECCA OF PUGILISTS

WHERE THE WOULD BE SPORTS ARE FLOCKING THESE DAYS.

Ciudad Jaurez Will Surely Witness the Fistic Carnival—Mexican Government Not Expected to Interfere—Bull Fights Also to Be a Side Feature of the Show.

From all present indications, the tourist with sporting proclivities who finds himself down in the immediate neighborhood of El Paso, Tex., the middle of the present month will find amusement enough during the week of Dan Stuart's fistic revival to compensate him for his fruitless trip to the Valley of Vapors in Arkansas during the late long range conversational combat. This time it will surely be a fight, or, in fact, a series of them, and the contestants will struggle for guaranteed purses, furnished by Stuart and his associates, instead of indulging in vacuous loquacity to make political ammunition for ambitious state officials by compelling them to make a much heralded display of state forces to override legal county officials. This play is always executed after the state functionary has ascertained on which side of the political fence the cat of his personal advantage has jumped.

Nothing in this world is sure but death, but every possible combination of circumstances that could in any way prevent these scheduled events from occurring on the dates advertised, save the death of one of the principals, has been carefully looked after, and the promoters have the assurance of every one in the slightest manner concerned that there will be no interference.

There is no law in Mexico against glove contests. It is but little known as a sport in the ancient Aztec empire; hence it has not been abused and magnified into a crime, and, it not being an offense against the laws of the republic, there are no penalties attached to an indulgence in it. But even if it were it would be an insult to the common sense of a man who is known to be as bright mentally and as shrewd as Dan Stuart to think that he would go to the enormous expense entailed upon him, and which is increasing daily, if he had not an absolute certainty of his being recouped by the financial profits of the carnival.

The statement that President Diaz intended to prevent the fights will show its absurdity to the thinking man in a second. Even when the hue and cry over the Corbett-Fitzsimmons match was at its height, and when they were being driven from state to state in the fruitless endeavor to find a protected battleground, it became the stylish thing in high gubernatorial circles for each of them to express his individual interpretation of the statutes and publicly evolve elaborate plans and processes of law to prevent an invasion of their respective states by the sports.

During all this turmoil among the governors of the great northern republic the silence observed by the Mexican officials was intense. Not one of them, from the chief executive down, uttered a word that in the smallest degree could be construed as being authority for the statement that was published at the time that the president would exercise federal authority if the scene of the battle was shifted to Mexican territory. He never said a word about it; paid not the slightest attention to it in any way. As a matter of fact, President Diaz would have the same right to send a federal army into a Mexican state to stop a prize fight that President Cleveland would have to send troops from Jefferson Barracks up to the West End club to stop a sparring contest there, and he would do it just about as soon.

The Mexican national government has no more to do with the police regulations of the different states than the government at Washington has to do with the St. Louis police force. In each case they are left to perform the duties of their station in the local commonwealth and are allowed to attend to their own business.

The plan that will be pursued is probably this: Prize fighting constitutes no offense in the eyes of the Mexican statutes, but bull fighting does, and as bull fighting is the recognized national sport of the Mexican people they are determined to have them, law or no law. So they advertise to have the fight, plead guilty and pay the fine and that ends the matter. Sometimes these fines are paid in advance—it is $500 in Mexican or about $250 in United States coin—and in these cases it acts as a license, and is cheap enough.

Stuart evidently has the game well in hand and thoroughly knows what he is about. As a sort of counter attraction, and to fill in time, a bull fight will be given in the morning of each day on which a glove battle will occur. He will go into court, pay his fine—or license, whatever you like to phrase it—and the dance will go merrily on. And all this before a blow has been struck or a caster shied into the ring.

Senor Jose de Moreno and his company of Spanish bull fighters are expected to arrive in El Paso direct from Spain. Stuart has made arrangements through his agents in the City of Mexico for a number of bulls of the best fighting stock in the republic, and they will arrive in El Paso just before the fights, and everything will be in readiness for the opening of the carnival on St. Valentine's day. Not a misstep has been made in perfecting all arrangements and not a hitch is believed possible to prevent the contests.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Protest.

While in most respects the recent cycle show was exceedingly gratifying to all concerned, it revealed one feature which is far from commendable. The position and curve of the handle bars on the new bicycles exhibited promise to turn out an even more dyspeptic looking wheelman than has yet been seen. A very large percentage of the wheels had handle bars adjusted extremely low and curved both downward and forward, compelling a rider to assume more the position of a frog than of a man. For the sake of preserving human gracefulness and identity cyclists are earnestly requested not to encourage the scorcher's pose by using this sort of handle bars.—New York Sun.

ODDITIES OF ANIMALS.

Queer Features About Them That Are Little Known.

Observe for yourselves. Every spotted dog has the end of his tail white, while every spotted cat has the end of her tail black.

Try it. Gather 10,000 of the threads spun by a full grown spider, twist them together and see if they equal in substance the size of one of your hairs.

Oysters live 10 or 12 years when they have the chance. In this country they don't get the chance.

Many horses are fond of beer, and to a tired horse a bottle of beer in his gruel is a great restorative. It acts as a "kick me up," and often makes a horse with no appetite eat freely. Brewers understand this, and that is one reason why their horses always seem to be in good condition.

The large horned beetle can carry 315 times its own weight. One has been known to walk away with a two and a quarter pound weight.

Live bees are sometimes shipped on ice so as to keep them dormant during the journey. This is particularly the case with bumblebees, which have been taken to New Zealand, where they are useful in fertilizing the red clover that has been introduced into the colony.

The amount of light that can be obtained from fireflies is not generally known. These insects have two bright spots on their thorax, and also brilliant wings on the abdomen, and give light sufficient to enable one to read at a little distance. Two or three placed in the center of a room will shed a soft light all over it. They are very common in Cuba, Brazil, Guiana, Venezuela and Mexico. In those countries at night the natives affix the little creatures to their shoes and thus obtain light to see the road and frighten away the snakes. Mexican women use them as jewels. They tie them in little gauze bags and put them in their hair or on their clothing. They keep them in wire cages and feed them on scraps of sugar cane.

Reynard is a knowing animal. The foxes are much tormented by fleas, but when the infliction becomes too severe they know how to get rid of the insects. They gather from the bark of trees moss, which they carry to a stream that deepens by degrees. Here they enter the water, still carrying the moss in their mouths, and, going backward, beginning from the end of their tails, they advance by slow degrees till the whole body, with the exception of the mouth, is entirely immersed. The fleas, during this proceeding, have rushed in rapid haste to the dry parts, and finally to the moss, and the fox, when he has, according to his calculation, allowed sufficient time for all the fleas to take their departure, quietly opens his mouth. The moss floats off down the stream with its burden of fleas, and when it is out of jumping reach the fox finds its way to the bank much relieved.—New York Herald.

TAUGHT BY INSTINCT.

How a Conductor Learned to Write In a Moving Car.

The street car was near the end of its run, and the conductor was making out his trip report. He stood firmly, with his feet spread, and wrote rapidly. The two passengers watched him with interest.

"Will you let me look at that writing, conductor?" said one of the men.

The nickel collector seemed surprised, but handed him the paper. The writing was clear, legible and firm.

"I don't see how you can write so well with the car jumping and jolting all the time," said the passenger as he returned the paper.

"Oh, it's a knack!" replied the conductor. "I just do it."

The other passenger then spoke:

"He does it just as I shave myself in a sleeping car that is traveling 40 miles an hour. It's a traveler's trick. You see he holds the book flat in his left hand. His right elbow is jammed against his breast, and he writes with his wrist rigid. Thus his whole body, book and pencil are moving together, and he is poised on his feet so that he sways with the car. It's the same way with shaving on a train. By pressing the elbow against the chest and shaving with the wrist a man can shave himself without making a cut in his cheek. I've done it many times. I have noticed, too, that railroad men hold themselves the same way when they are writing on a moving train."

"I guess that's so," said the conductor, "but I never knew it before. No one told me. I just picked it up."—Chicago Record.

Famous Carved Pulpits.

St. Gudule, the cathedral church of Brussels, has a carved pulpit, representing in carved wood the expulsion from paradise. Among the animals are the bear, the dog, cat, eagle, vulture, peacock, owl, dove, ape, etc. There is an equally fine one in Antwerp cathedral. The decoration is of a lavish and striking character, figures, birds and beasts being mixed in artistic profusion. The church of St. Andrew at Antwerp contains a very elaborately carved wood pulpit, representing the calling of Peter and Andrew. The figures are of life size, standing in a boat. Beside them is a net with fishes. Wilton church, near Salisbury, possesses the finest pulpit in England. It is made of choice marble beautifully carved. In Worcester cathedral is a pulpit of carved marble, the gift of the late Earl of Dudley. A pulpit which certainly ranks among the finest in the world is that possessed by the church of St. Mary Radcliffe, Bristol, England. In the church of the Holy Name, Oxford street, Manchester, there is a marble pulpit with panels of beautiful mosaics. Each panel contains the portraits of saints worked in Venetian marble work.—Exchange.

42 CHURCH STREET.

The man who stands idly by and sees the life fading out of his wife's face, sees her health going, sees her becoming old and faded and wrinkled when she should still be in the perfect enjoyment of vigorous, useful health, is either less than a man or else does not know of the one remedy which will bring her back to health and strength. Most women do not understand their own bodies, or the things that make them well or sick. The most frequent cause of sickness in women is the cause last looked for. A women will go to a doctor when she has a severe cold, or some acute digestive disturbance, but she hesitates and procrastinates when the trouble is with the distinctly feminine organism. And yet the latter is infinitely more serious. It is the most serious sickness that any woman can have. It is the most dreadful—the most dangerous. Its consequences are always serious, and serious right at the beginning because it is debilitating. It saps the life and strength and works on the nerves to such an extent that the whole body is disturbed. Appetite leaves, the color goes from the face and hollows sink into the cheeks. Irritability succeeds good temper and fretfulness takes the place of contentment. Little by little life becomes more and more miserable. The woman is killing herself with neglect just as surely as if she were taking deadly poison. Perhaps her husband cannot persuade her to go to her doctor, because she naturally dreads the inevitable examinations and "local treatments." He can persuade her, if she needs persuasion, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This truly wonderful medicine has cured hundreds of women after the best physicians have failed. It has been in constant use and tested every day for 30 years. It isn't an experiment, there are no chances about it. It is a certain and infallible cure for all derangements peculiar to women. Those who care to know all about it, and to receive the best medical work ever prepared for the general public are invited to send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only and receive a copy of Dr. Pierce's thousand page book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." 5 O'CLOCK EXTRA

BRYAN MYSTERY

May be Solved in the Near Future.

STRONG EVIDENCE AGAITST SCOTT JACKSON

Points to Him as a Probable Murderer.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—Last night Colonel Dietsche, chief of police of Cincinnati, received the following telegram from Green Castle, Ind.:

"Arrest and charge with murder of Pearl Bryan one Scott Jackson, student at dental college, about 24 years old, 5ft. 7in. or 8in. high, weighs about 135 pounds, blonde, sandy mustache, light complexion, effeminate in appearance. Arrest, if in Cincinnati, William Wood, friend of Jackson, and charged as accomplice, about 21 years old, 5ft. 11in., light blonde hair, smooth face, rather slender, weight about 165. We go from here to South Bend after Wood, as he left here for that place."

Accordingly at 10:45 Scott Jackson was at the mayor's office under examination by the mayor and chief of police. The culprit was perfectly described in the telegram from the detectives.

The prisoner, Scott Jackson, was clean in appearance and newly dressed. His naturally ruddy face flushed perceptibly under the examination, and his light blue eyes wandered from his questioners in spite of a visible effort to bear up and look them square in the eyes. His voice was reasonably firm, yet it required an effort to keep it in form. He did not exhibit any signs that he felt humiliated by his arrest.

His accounts of his whereabouts last Friday were not satisfactory. He denied guilt, but admitted that he knew Pearl Bryan. He could tell nothing about where she was or where she had been during the past few weeks. As to his whereabouts last Friday night, his roommate, Mr. Taney, was examined first. He said that Jackson was at home Friday night. That was all he could say, as Jackson could go in and out whenever he desired. Jackson said Friday night he was at supper at 7 o'clock and retired at about 10 o'clock. The rest of his story is very vague, though he said he was in his room all night.

The worst point of Jackson's story, the weakest part of it, is that about his conduct on last Saturday. He boarded at 222 West Ninth street, next to Robinson's Opera House. On Saturday he took a valise and left it in Engler's saloon, opposite his boarding-house. This valise he carried with him all over the city that day. The accounting for this valise and why he carried it all day and night puzzled him more than anything else. In fact he prevaricated, and afterward acknowledged that he had lied. The matter will be sifted in court. Meanwhile he is committed without bail.

It has transpired that Scott Jackson was seen with Miss Bryan at Dave Wallingford's saloon at the northeast corner of George and Plum streets, this city, Friday night, between 7 and 8 o'clock, and Jackson borrowed $3 from Wallingford. This man will be a most important, if not the most important, witness against Jackson. The location of Plum and George streets is in the Tenderloin district of the city.

Clothing Identified.

A special from Green Castle, Ind., says the family of A. S. Bryan, a leading farmer, living less than two miles from this city, have identified the clothing brought here by detectives from Cincinnati and Newport, Ky., as that of their daughter, Pearl Bryan.

They furnished other information and circumstances which leave no doubt in the minds of the officers who have been here since Tuesday that the body of the woman murdered and beheaded near Fort Thomas, opposite Cincinnati, last Friday night, is their daughter Pearl, aged 23 years, who left home Jan. 23, ostensibly to visit a friend, Miss Jane Fisher, on Central avenue, Indianapolis.

They have made every possible inquiry and find that she did not visit Miss Fisher in Indianapolis, but that she was taken to Cincinnati by Scott Jackson. She took with her a switch of hair which was brought here by the officers and identified. The shoes that were brought by the officers here were bought of Louis & Hays by Pearl Bryan, Nov. 23, 1895, and marks were identified by the dealers. As soon as the officers interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and other members of their family they sent word to Cincinnati to have Scott Jackson arrested. The mother of Scott Jackson lives here, and the families were intimate and highly respected. The Bryan family also gave information that led the officers to order the arrest of William Wood, the son of Rev. D. M. Wood, at South Bend, Ind.

Victims of Burglars.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—Anna Tate, a housekeeper employed by J. H. Richelderfer, was found dead in bed yesterday. Her employer was found at the same time unconscious, and believed to be dying in his room. Everything in the house was found in disorder and confusion. Burglars had evidently ransacked the place hurriedly, and had departed after breaking open an iron safe in a back room on the street floor and abstracting money and valuables belonging to Mr. Richelderfer.

Manchester School Scandal.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 6.—A special meeting of the school board was held last night to investigate the recent action of the sub-committee on the high school in expelling 11 seniors who nailed their class flag to the school flagpole. Chairman Manning of the sub-committee failed to appear, however, and the meeting adjourned to Friday evening. The parents of the expelled pupils were present and tried ineffectually to address the board.

Sentence Will Be Imposed Later.

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 6.—In the superior criminal court here, Benjamin F. Townsend was found guilty of arson in setting fire to the barn of George P. Calhoun at Rutland, Nov. 25, 1895. The conviction was on entirely circumstantial evidence. Sentence will be imposed later. By the fire, George Calhoun, a son of the owner of the property, was burned to death.

ON PRIZE FIGHTING

Bill Passed by the House Preventing It.

RESOLUTION TO RECOGNIZE CUBAN BELLIGERENTS.

Senator West Attacks Sec'y Morton With Vigor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The most caustic utterance heard in the senate since Mr. Tillman's sensational speech was that of Mr. Vest (Mo.) yesterday arraigning Secretary of Agriculture Morton. The keen satire and ridicule directed against the secretary and the allusions to the president made the speech hardly less notable than that which recently startled the senate. Mr. Vest referred derisively to "the colossal intellect dealing with cabbages."

A new phase of the Cuban question was presented by Mr. Morgan's report from the committee on foreign relations recognizing a state of war in Cuba and according both contestants recognition as belligerents.

The house passed a bill to prevent prize or bull fighting in the territories or District of Columbia.

The full text of the anti-prize fighting bill is as follows:

That any person who in any of the territories or the District of Columbia shall voluntarily engage in a pugilistic encounter between man and man or a fight between a man and a bull or any other animal, for money or for other things of value, or for any championship or upon the result of which any money or anything of value is bet or wagered, or to see which any admission fee is charged, either directly or indirectly, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in a penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years.

By the term pugilistic encounter, as used in this bill, is meant any voluntary fight by blows by means of fists or otherwise, whether with or without gloves, between two or more men, for money, or for a prize of any character, or for any other thing of value, or for any championship, or upon the result of which any money or anything of value is bet or wagered, or to see which any admission fee is charged either directly or indirectly.

The debate on the senate free coinage substitute for the house bond bill, which will last two or three days, was opened, and the District of Columbia appropriation bill was defeated. The defeat grew out of the war which has been waged for several days against appropriating money in the bill for sectarian charitable institutions. Sixty-one Republicans broke away from the majority, and with the Democrats defeated the bill.

Spanish Steamer Ashore.

PATCHOGUE, L. I., Feb. 6.—The two-masted steamer Lamington, loaded with fruit, from Valencia, Spain, for New York, came ashore 12 miles east of Fire Island. There were 24 persons aboard, including two passengers. Signals of distress were sent up, and were seen by one of the crew of the Blue Point life-saving station. Crews worked all night to place a line aboard the steamer. Then the breeches buoy was made fast. Twenty men have come ashore. Captain Duff and three of his officers remained on board the vessel. The steamer lies 150 yards from the shore at right angles with the beach, and is unusually high up. She cannot be floated until she has been unloaded.

Maceo's Army Out of a Trap.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A cipher dispatch from Habana to the Rodriguez club of this city says that Maceo and his main army have escaped from the trap which was laid by the Spaniards to hold him in the extreme west of Pinar del Rio until he should be conquered. The dispatch also says: "Maceo and his army passing north of Vinales in the mountains, toward Habana. Rear guard operating south." This indicates that the rear guard has been doing the late fighting in southwestern Pinar del Rio to detract attention from Maceo's movements eastward.

Claims Ignorance of Law.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 6.—John McCrea, agent for the United Life association of New York city, was arrested yesterday charged with violating the state law which prohibits agents making rebates in premiums. McCrea admits offering a rebate of $30 to C. H. Miller, but says he came from New York only a month ago and was ignorant of the law.

Settled by Relatives.

HARTFORD, Feb. 6.—The defalcation of ex-General Manager Lawler of the Philadelphia, Reading and New England railroad was settled by his relatives yesterday. There will be no prosecution. The total sum was slightly in excess of $2000.

Daughter Got Only $3000.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 6.—The contest over the will of the late Lorenzo Armstrong was begun in the superior court yesterday. The contestant is Miss Elizabeth Armstrong of Brooklyn. She is a daughter of the deceased by his second wife, and by the will got only $3000 out of an estate of nearly $500,000. She claims that the will was not the testamentary act of the deceased, and that if it was it was obtained by undue influence, and that her father at the time was of unsound mind and incapable of making a will.

Young Verrill's Stealings.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 6.—A complete list of the valuable specimens stolen from the Peabody museum by Albert H. Verrill, son of Professor Verrill of Yale university, has been made, and the total value of the articles as estimated by the Yale authorities proves to be far less than the alleged value as previously reported. The total value will reach only $3000. Of the stolen articles $600 worth have been recovered.

Petitions to Commute Sentence.

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—A petition for the commutation of the death sentence imposed on Angus Gilbert, the murderer of little Alice Sterling, was filed at the state house yesterday by the prisoner's counsel, Messrs. Doherty and Leach. His excellency will lay the matter before the executive council, and if, in the opinion of that body, the petition is entitled to a hearing, a date for such hearing will be set.

Nutmeggers For Reed.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 6.—Herbert E. Benton, chairman of the Republican state committee, states that he believes the Connecticut delegation to the national Republican convention will support Reed for president. "They will rally with the greatest enthusiasm for any of the candidates now in the field," said Mr. Benton, "but I think they will be for Reed at the outset."

Miss Barton En Route to Armenia.

ENCOURAGEMENT FROM MINISTER TERRELL.

They Will be Made Relief Workers.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Miss Clara Barton, president of the American Red Cross society, and the rest of her party left Victoria station yesterday en route for Constantinople. The railway company reserved a carriage for the exclusive use of the party, and a cabin was also reserved for them on the channel steamer. In addition to this the steamer ordered its agent in Calais to show the party every possible courtesy.

Miss Barton will remain in Paris a few days, and will also make a brief halt in Geneva. She will then go to Vienna, where she will take a brief rest and consult with United States Minister Tripp. At Vienna she will take the Orient express and go through to Constantinople.

United States Minister Terrell of Constantinople had been asked if he would appoint Miss Barton and her comrades in the capacity of individual members of the Red Cross society as bearers of relief to the Armenians, to which inquiry Mr. Terrell replied that he would, but that he would appoint no Armenian who had been naturalized as an American citizen, nor would he appoint any newspaper reporters. Upon the strength of this answer, Miss Barton decided to start for Constantinople at once.

During her stay in London a number of the friends of Armenia called upon Miss Barton, who improved the opportunity thus afforded to acquire all the information possible concerning the situation in Armenia. Miss Barton declined the honor of a public reception which was offered to her. On Saturday she took luncheon with Lady Henry Somerset, and Tuesday evening dined with Canon Wilberforce at the canonry of Westminster Abbey.

Nothing About Yachting.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Lord Dunraven was the guest last night of the Glasgow University Conservative club. His speech on the occasion contained no allusions to the subject of yachting, but with reference to the Venezuelan question he said that war between England and America would be regarded by everyone as an unmitigated horror. If either country had placed itself in a false or misunderstood position, both were strong and magnanimous enough to withdraw or to make concessions. He was confident, he said, that the result of the strained relations would be a better feeling between the two countries.

Don't Want Annexation.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—A resolution was unanimously adopted by the house of commons yesterday declaring Canada's inalienable loyalty to the British throne, and her willingness, in case of war, to make any sacrifice for the integrity of the empire. Mr. McNeil, who drafted the bill, said the people of the republic believed Canadians would seize the first opportunity of altering their allegiance from England to the United States. It was annoying to Canadians that their feelings should be so misinterpreted and misunderstood.

Pointers For the Poet.

"Now," said Lord Saltboodle, who was initiating the poet laureate, "it is desirable to have a clear understanding of your duties as promptly as possible."

"Why—er—I thought my duty would be to write poetry."

"Of course. That's the mechanical part of it. You seem to know how to get the proper plunk plunk in the meter and to recognize the degree of phonetic similarity required to constitute rhyme. But that is not all. I'll admit that it takes practice, but it is not all."

"What else do you require?"

"Adaptability. You must be able to recognize an occasion and rise to it. Here's a case in point—suppose we take a liking to a piece of territory and reach out after it."

"You want a martial lyric then, don't you?"

"Nothing of the kind. You want to give us something soothing. You must get down your lyre and your notebook and compose a convincing ditty on how glorious a thing it is to be wolloped and gobbled, provided of course that it be done by the proper party."

And the poet laureate mopped his brow, whittled a few chips off his lead pencil, cast his eyes heavenward and murmured:

"I suppose this is better than no job at all, but it isn't any sinecure."—Washington Star.

Why McCarthy Resigned.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Justin McCarthy has addressed a letter to the secretaries of the Irish party, in which he says that his reasons for giving up the leadership are wholly personal, and due to his failing health and to the necessity for greater attention to his profession, upon which depends his livelihood. He says that he is still full of confidence in the success of home rule.

Disgruntled Princes.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Prince Frederick Hohenzollern, who resigned the command of the Third army corps because the emperor refused to confirm the decison of the board of honor on the Von Kotze case, intends to quit Berlin and to reside in South Germany. Prince Albert of Saxe-Altenburg will also retire to his estate at Mecklenburg.

The Craven Kings.

A sultan sat on a crumbling throne—
And the Christian kings took stock of his lands.

The sultan's troops slashed right and left
With sword and dagger. A Christian fell
At every sweep of a pagan blade.

Old England's long, slim fingers curled
Lovingly over the sultan's gold.

The sultan's soldiers snatched wee babes
From mothers' breasts and dashed their brains
Ferociously out on the frozen earth.

Austria, Germany, Italy, France,
Saw and were silent. The sultan sneered.

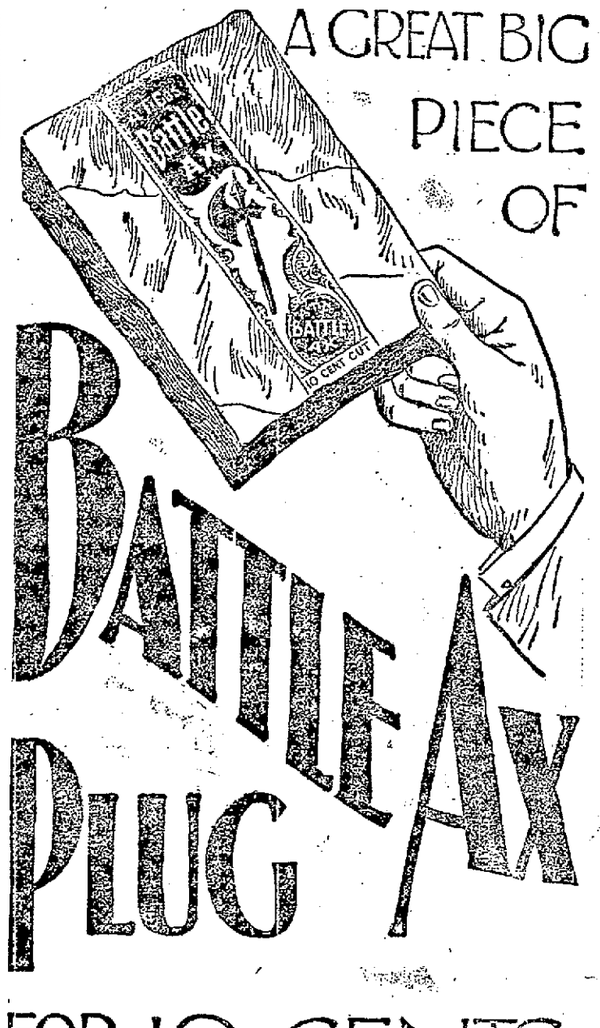

Where maids and matrons shrieking ran
The sultan's biridings struck them down
And ravished and slew them where they lay.

The word passed over the shuddering earth,
But never a nation raised its hand.

God! For a year of the brave old days
When Christian sword smote pagan lance,
Swung by the knights of the snow-white cross!

THE BOND ISSUE

Experts Astounded at the Enormous Bids.

MORGAN SYNDICATE SHOWED ITS STRENGTH.

It is Likely to Secure More Than One Half.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Four thousand six hundred and forty bids for $684,260,950 worth of bonds—such is the tremendous total of the subscriptions opened at the treasury department yesterday in accordance with the terms of the call issued a month ago inviting proposals for $100,000,000 of United States 4 per cent bonds to run for 30 years from Feb. 1, 1895. These figures do not include about $120,000,000 of "crank" bids rejected as bogus.

The immense offerings astounded experts. The bids literally swamped the treasury department, which was so taken by surprise that at 6 o'clock last night, although extra clerks had been hurriedly drafted, the work of tabulating the bids was still in progress, and it was impossible to tell with definiteness how many bids and for what aggregate had been received at figures in advance of the upset price of $110.6377, at which a syndicate composed of J. P. Morgan & Co., Pliny Fisk & Co. and the Deutsch bank of Berlin offered to take the whole loan.

The bids ranged from par up to a single $50 bid at $150. It is impossible, therefore, to say at this time how the awards will be made. Treasury officials regard the loan as a complete success, both as to the popular subscription feature and the prices obtained. Bids came from several thousand individuals and from hundreds of national banks and other banking institutions. Nearly all the leading New York bankers and big insurance companies were represented in the list of bidders, but with few exceptions they were outmaneuvered by the Morgan syndicate.

Owing to the confusion caused by the magnitude of the offerings and the consequent delay in classifying and scheduling the bids, any authoritative statement of the policy that will be pursued cannot be made at this time. As the great bulk of the offerings were made below the Morgan figure, it is believed that the syndicate headed by the great New York banker will be accepted for about $50,000,000, and possibly more. In any event no bid below the syndicate rate of $110.6377 will be accepted, as that rate covers the entire loan. It is understood that Mr. Morgan will procure a part of the gold from abroad, and will not need to deplete the treasury to furnish any part of the gold called for under his bid.

Morgan's Figures Lead.

There were a vast number of bids for figures fractionally rising $110, but under the Morgan figures and for amounts aggregating sufficient to take up the entire loan. Among them were the offers of the Stewart and McCall syndicates, including the big insurance, banking and trust companies of New York city, which stood ready to take huge blocks of bonds at figures in excess of prices named a week ago as high-mark for long loans. Secretary Carlisle was greatly pleased at the success of the bond offerings. He said no definite statement could be made as yet concerning the awards to successful bidders, nor how far, if at all, he would exercise his option of rejecting any or all bids.

When the department closed Tuesday night about 2800 bids had been received, and at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning a force of clerks were set to work classifying and scheduling them. The bulk of the work was then thought to be over, at least except for a few bids for large amounts, but the morning mails brought in at least 2000 more bids, which had the effect of greatly disarranging the plans.

The interest manifested in this loan far exceeded that of any other preceding ones, and when the hour for opening the bids arrived, the south corridor of the treasury building, in the vicinity of Mr. Carlisle's office, was crowded with bidders or their representatives and newspaper correspondents.

Among those present were J. Pierpont Morgan, Mr. Graham of the International Trust company of Boston; Mr. Toulmin, vice president of the Hide and Leather bank of Boston; Dr. George W. Rosmer, representing Mr. Pulitzer of the New York World; Mr. Burnett of the Investment Corporation company, New York, and Mr. Chandler of Boston.

When at 11:30 the door of the secretary's office was opened, a rush was made for seats, and in a very short time no available space remained unfilled. So great was the crowd that to afford easier entrance and exit the door was removed from its hinges. Among the last to arrive were Messrs. J. P. Morgan and Pliny Fisk of New York, who found in the crowded room ahead of them numbers of well-known financiers.

Great Interest Manifested.

The committee to superintend the opening of the bids—consisting of United States Treasurer Morgan, Comptroller Eckels and Mr. Huntington of the loans and currency division—had been at work since early morning, and a few minutes after noon announced that they were ready to proceed. It was an interested crowd that listened to Mr. Eckels as he read the names of the bidders and the amounts subscribed for, and it is probable that more millions were represented in Mr. Eckels' audience than were ever before gathered together in the treasury building.

Three or four of the bids carried with them evidences of their being fictitious, and they were accordingly omitted from the list, but the long list of bids and the substantial amounts desired by many bidders soon made it apparent that the question was not "Would the loan be oversubscribed?" but "How much would it be oversubscribed?"

The first announcement from Mr. Eckels made it known that bond bids approaching the $400,000,000 mark had been made, with enough left to represent another $75,000,000. Then came an announcement that the total was the stupendous figure of $684,260,950, which was subsequently reduced by throwing out three bogus bids of $100,000,000, $15,000,000 and $6,000,000.

It would be impossible with any ordinary telegraphic or typographical facilities to give a complete list of bids, and save as a matter of history, no importance attaches now to any bids below $110.6377. From the list of bidders at and above that figure the successful bidders undoubtedly will come.

The bids were for $100,000,000 50-year 4 per cent United States bonds under the conditions prescribed in the circular issued Jan. 6 last by Secretary Carlisle. This principal condition is that the bonds must be paid for in gold. For the convenience of the purchasers, the bonds may be paid for in installments, as follows: Twenty per cent at the time of the notice of acceptance and 10 per cent at the end of each 15 days thereafter. The present issue of bonds is the fourth since Feb. 1, 1894, all of them having been made ostensibly to maintain the treasury gold reserve.

The Feeling In Wall Street.

Word comes from New York that even the "oldest inhabitants" of Wall street express astonishment over this large total, and the great disparity in prices between the average for the new loan and the figures recorded in the previous one. The general opinion is that European financiers cannot fail to be profoundly impressed by the result of the popular loan experiment.

The highest single total of bids is the one presented by the J. P. Morgan (Deutsch bank), Harvey Fisk & Sons (National City bank syndicate), and the next the United States Trust company block. The large percentage of foreign bids is very significant, in view of the previous apprehension felt as to the probable unfavorable effect of the free silver manifestations of the United States upon European sentiment.

During the forenoon the market displayed hesitancy, which was reflected in an irregular movement of prices and moderate volume of business. The official announcements regarding the aggregate bids and average of prices imparted actual buoyancy to the market, prices advancing all along the line on the execution of heavy orders. More genuine commission buying occurred than has been noted for some time past, and wholesale coverings of shorts took place.

Senators Pleased.

The report of the success of the bond call was received with general satisfaction in the senate, in which those who were doubtful about the expediency of a popular loan joined, as indicating confidence in the country's ability and willingness to meet its obligations. Some disposition was, however, manifested on the part of the doubters to await details before expressing an opinion as to the complete success of the call, especially as to the number of bids at high rates. The opponents of the bonds and those who have been especially severe in their condemnation of the syndicate system were very much pleased, concluding that the number of the bids and prices offered were complete vindication of their course.

Right You Are, Chauncey!

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Chauncey M. Depew, in speaking last night on the bidding on the bonds, said: "This is glorious. It will act like an elixir of life upon the nation. It has shown that the credit of this country is beyond power to tear it down. It is a superb tribute by the people of their faith in their country. It is a tribute to the greatness of the country that foreign banks clamored for the issue, as in the case of the German banks and the other European banks. It shows that the people have established the credit of the country, and will maintain it. They will re-establish confidence with a bound. Things will boom from this out."

Comment From Abroad.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Daily News says: The success of the loan is astonishing, and shows that the investing public does not fear that the country will adopt a silver standard. Certainly, compared with previous experiments of the kind, its popularity is remarkable, and President Cleveland's confidence is amply justified.

Mayor Defends His Course.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Feb. 6.—The Bay View Temperance union celebrated its 20th anniversary last evening, Mayor Robinson being the principal speaker. He alluded to the criticism that he was proceeding too fast in the matter of enforcing the liquor law, but claimed that no reform was ever started that did not meet with objection. Effective results could not be gained in a single year; certain measures were necessary to keep the licensed places up to the conditions of their permits.

Permission to Bring Suit.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—E. R. Morse, a banker of Boston, has obtained leave from Justice Lawrence to bring an action against the United States Cordage company for the foreclosure of a mortgage made Jan. 1, 1894, to secure $7,500,000 worth of bonds to the United States Trust company as trustees.

SENATOR ROE WOULD PROHIBIT DISCRIMINATION.

Regulate Manufacture of Acetylene Gas.

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—Yesterday was the last day under the rules in which new business can be introduced, but as it is only required that bills and petitions shall be filed with the clerk before the close of the day for examination by the committee on rules, new business will continue to make its appearance for several days. In the summary of bills and petitions presented there were many subjects of general interest, including, for example, the taxation of telephone companies, the height of buildings in Boston, several insurance matters, $500,000 more money for the metropolitan park commissioners, etc. The principal hearing was before the committee on state house on the question of reconstructing or rebuilding the Bulfinch front of the state house. Among the bills in the senate was one for compensation for street franchises, and another ousting the existing election commissioners in the city of Boston and appointing a new board by the governor.

Senator Roe introduced a bill relative to discrimination by innholders on account of color or race. The bill provides that "any licensed innholder who makes any distinction, discrimination or restriction on account of color or race, on conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction in the country where the said offense shall have been committed, shall forfeit his innholder's license."

Mr. Mellen introduced a bill requiring the board of gas and electric light companies to investigate the subject of acetylene gas, and consider the advisability of legislation regulating its manufacture and sale.

The committee on constitutional amendments reported back in an amended form the resolves in favor of biennial elections.

A petition was presented for legislation exempting from the provisions of the law regulating the practice of physicians and surgeons physicians of over 60 years of age who have been in practice for 10 or more years in the state.

Mr. Davis offered an order for the appointment of a committee of five to be appointed by the speaker to consider and report to this legislature on the advisability of completing that part of the house chamber left vacant for historical paintings.

The joint committee on state house and military affairs unanimously reported a resolve for $50,000 for a statue to General Joe Hooker.

The state board on docks and terminals made a preliminary report, and asked for another year in which to present its final report.

A Horrible Tragedy.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—An entire family, consisting of seven persons, was found dead yesterday as a result of the murderous work and suicide of Richard Kloettke. The dead are: Richard Kloettke, aged 38; Kate, his wife; John, his father, aged 73; Mina, his mother, aged 71; Mina, his daughter, aged 9; Anna, daughter, aged 8; Emma, daughter, aged 7. The discovery was made by a neighbor, who went to the residence to get some work done. The victims were all killed by shots from a revolver, which was found by Kloettke's side. Kloettke had been out of work for some time, had no money and no prospect of getting work.

An Interesting Case.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 6.—H. L. Duncan, a local politician, sued to recover $980 from E. H. George of Groveland, which he alleged had been promised him by George for services in behalf of his father, E. B. George, in the latter's campaign for the Republican congressional nomination in the Sixth district last fall. Judge Carter ruled that electioneering was contrary to the best interests of the community, and that a claim for such services was valueless. Judgment was rendered for defendant.

Dan Stuart's Boast.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 6.—"No power can stop these fights," said Dan A. Stuart when informed of the passage of the anti-prize fighting bill by the house of representatives. "They are coming off just as they are advertised. So sure as the principals are alive and in condition to get into the ring on the date set for the contests, so sure will they fight, and fight to a finish. If anybody who evinces any sort of doubt as to this, I will lay them 4 to 1 for any part of $50,000."

Final Action Deferred.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—In the supreme court yesterday Auditor Hemenway reported in the case of the insurance commissioner vs. the Commonwealth Mutual Fire Insurance company. An assessment of $250,000 on the policy holders was recommended. Counsel for a policy holder was heard upon the right of recovering insurance on loss by fire between the time of filing of the petition for and the appointment of a receiver. The court deferred action upon the report.

Its Possibilities Innumerable.

ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 6.—Thomas A. Edison has been experimenting with cathode, but without achieving results other than those accomplished by other investigators. He says the possibilities of the new ray are innumerable, and repeats his prophecy that within 50 years electricity will be extracted directly from coal.

Valley Overflowed.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 6.—The Brazis river is still rising an inch an hour. The levee at Stone plantation, near Hempstead, is broken. The crevasse is 40 feet wide and growing wider, and the water is rushing over the surrounding country. The entire valley will be inundated.

A LECTURE ON ANATOMY

BY DR. SAVAGE BEFORE ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL.

Interesting Discourse on the Structure of the Human Body.

To the young men of the commercial and senior classes of St. Patrick's school yesterday afternoon Dr. John J. Savage delivered an exceedingly interesting talk on anatomy.

It was the first of a series of talks to which these classes will be treated, and the progress hoped for on the part of the pupils will certainly be attained in the entire series if the close attention and intense interest manifested by the pupils yesterday signify anything.

Dr. Savage had with him several specimens of skulls and bones which he exhibited to the pupils, and his talk was illustrated with figures drawn on the board representing the various parts that combine to compose the human system.

Naturally this would be a "dry" subject even to older persons but the young men evinced a tendency to follow closely the remarks of the speaker and many took notes.

The doctor explained that the body is divided into four parts, the head, trunk, upper and lower extremity, and the location of each part was described at some length.

The skull, he told the pupils, has eight bones and the face fourteen bones. The composition of a bone in the human body was explained and the relation of adjacent bones to each other.

The meaning of what is known as a dead bone was made clear, and some time was devoted to explaining the formation of a bone in a child.

He also told how tender are the bones in children, which accounts, he said, for children being bow-legged; who are allowed to walk before the bones have attained sufficient strength and growth.

The vertebrae with its 26 bones was referred to, and the speaker reminded his hearers of the very sensitive nature of this part of the system.

He made known the terms applied to the different joints in the body, such as the hip joint, which is known as the ball and sock joint, and the elbow joint to which the term hinge joint is given.

In conclusion he touched upon dislocations, as he deemed it important and useful for them to have some knowledge on this subject. So he illustrated the method of reducing a dislocation and of uniting a break.

Dr. Savage will deliver a few more talks advancing each time to something deeper but at the same time apt to be of a more interesting nature.

Rev. Bro. George has also arranged for lectures on the following subjects during the year: "How to get there," which will be of a humorous character; American literature, English literature, commercial law, reading, rhetoric, music and several others.

FIRST C. CHURCH

Notice Served On Pastor by Apostles.

THEY FORBID HIM ENTER THE THE BUILDING.

The Matter Now in the Legislature.

The First Congregational church trouble is not ended. The minority still holds out although the majority claims the right to rule and has applied to the legislature for the restoration of the church property bound up on a lease by the so-called twelve apostles.

The lessees have served the following notice upon Rev. Mr. Kenngott;

LOWELL, Feb. 4, '96.

Rev. George F. Kenngott, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: You have been already verbally informed that the society of the First Congregational church in Lowell on the twenty-third day of January last, in accordance with the vote of the society, passed on that day, leased to the undersigned for a term of years its land and meeting house situated in Lowell, and that we then took possession of the said property, and still hold the same as lessees under a written lease of that date.

You are also aware that your resignation as pastor of the society was accepted some weeks previously, and your relation as pastor of said society terminated Dec. 31 last.

We verbally protested against your entering the pulpit at the service last Sunday, before you did so. We regret that you persisted in entering the pulpit and interfering with our supply.

Affirming that you are neither pastor of the church nor of the society, and that the premises leased by us as above stated are in our possession and control, and not in either that of the church or the society, we hereby absolutely forbid you to enter the pulpit or any part of the premises so leased to us, under any claim that you may make to be pastor of either church or society.

Regretting the necessity of this notice, and trusting that no other methods or proceedings may be necessary for the purpose of securing our peaceful occupancy of the premises in accordance with the terms of the lease to us, we are respectfully,

Signed by the twelve apostles as usual:

JUSTIN H. KIMBALL,
J. W. B. SHAW,
A. D. CARTER,
J. W. GRIFFIN,
T. B. STEVENSON,
SIDNEY DREWETT,
OTIS A. MERRILL,
E. J. MEDINA
W. W. RICHARDSON,
GEORGE W. FRYE,
J. T. REXFORD.

It is rumored that if Mr. Kenngott is shut out next Sunday he and the church will withdraw to Huntington hall and hold services there. As Huntington hall will probably be engaged, some other hall may be secured.

Rev. James H. Ross of Roxbury will conduct the services morning and evening at the First Congregational church next Sunday.

ALL FROM PAROCHIAL

The High School Pupils of Lawrence Are Beaten in a Competitive Examination.

Here is an interesting piece of news from the Lawrence Tribune:

Only five out of twenty-three applicants were successful in passing the examinations for admission to the training school. Not a graduate of the high school among the number! The five successful ones are graduates of the parochial schools. In view of the proposed building of a high school at a cost of $250,000, it is pertinent to ask if the new school is intended to make the pupils more proficient? If not, it would be a more profitable investment from an educational standpoint, to turn the high school pupils over to the parochial schools.

There must be an explanation for the failure school of high graduates to compete on equal terms with the graduates of the parochial schools.

The school board ought to give the public a reason for the failure of the high school to properly fit pupils for admission to the training school, which is the preparatory school for teachers in the public schools. There is something wrong.
